Porn Sunday at Epic Church

09/04/2008 10:02 AM

Stephanie Innes

A continuation of the puresextucson.com story...This weekend is "Porn Sunday" at Epic Church — a local Baptist congregation that meets in a movie theater at Park Place Mall.

This Sunday's service — Sunday, Sept. 7 — starts at 10 a.m. in theaters 10 and 5.

Epic Pastor Jake Rasmussen has put together a program based culled from XXXchurch.com, which has created programs for churches to address issues surrounding pornography.

"With MySpace, Youtube, Paris Hilton and the Girls Next Door, porn has become America's new entertainment," says a release from Rasmussen.

"With divorce, lost jobs and sexual dysfunction, pornography is fueling a new breed: the porn generation."

Rasmussen also says that pornography accounts for 57 billion dollars a year worldwide and 13 billion dollars here in the U.S.

"America's dirty little secret gets a voice on Sept. 7," Rasmussen wrote in an email.

He is asking anyone interested in learning more to attend the service, to call him at 979-0495 or to email him at jake@epicchurch.com

Porn Sunday is part of an overall focus on sex in three local Baptist churches, all of them run by young pastors who believe church should be a place where
